

The background of the cover is a detailed illustration of a rugged, mountainous landscape. The scene is dominated by large, craggy rock formations in shades of grey, green, and brown. A narrow, winding path leads through the rocks. In the lower-left foreground, a small figure is seen climbing a steep rock face, secured by a rope. Further up the path, another small figure is visible, and in the distance, a third figure can be seen near a cave-like opening. The overall atmosphere is one of a wild, untamed wilderness.
